

Mortimer On Stand As Witness In Forbes Trial

Tells of Alleged Plan to Split Profits On Contracts.

$100,000 A YEAR

Forbes-Mortimer Split 36 Per Cent Contract Profits, According to Testimony of the Latter.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. — Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia and Washington, the government's chief witness in the conspiracy trial of Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson for defrauding the government occupied the witness stand in federal court all day yesterday, describing the alleged agreements between the contractors and Forbes for splitting the profits of the hospitals constructed for wounded service men. He was about half way through his story when court adjourned for the day, and it was indicated his direct testimony will fill all of tomorrow's session.

Introduction of letters and telegrams exchanged between Mortimer and Thompson and James W. Black, relating to the awarding of the hospital contracts were strenuously objected to by the defense, but their objections were overruled. One long document, purporting to describe the plans of the Columbia syndicate, a South American development project of Thompson, and Black, his business associate, and others, of which Forbes was supposed to be chief engineer, was withheld from the jury for examination by defense counsel.

Mortimer testified today that Black now dead, and Thompson offered Forbes the job as chief engineer at $100,000 a year, while Forbes accepted. The Columbia syndicate, Mortimer testified had visions of hauling contracts for $100,000,000 and Forbes was to help in obtaining these for Thompson and Black and other associates.

President-elect Espina was introduced to Forbes on a visit to New York, Mortimer testified, and the contractors told Forbes to use his influence to have President Harding speak in favor of Thompson and Black when President Espina was presented to President Harding.

The firm of Thompson and Black had retained Mortimer, he testified for 35 per cent of the net profits they made out of veterans' bureau hospital contracts. On a trip to Atlantic City in May, 1922, Mortimer testified he told Forbes he would give him half of this 35 per cent on all the contracts Forbes gave to this firm.

Forbes was to get one-third of a $100,000 contingent fee for using his influence to get a settlement of $700,000, for Thompson in the steamer Goodfellow case pending before the court of claims, Mortimer also testified. Thompson had salvaged the steamer only to have it seized by the navy during the war, Forbes was to reach Mr. Anderson of government counsel on the court of claims, Mortimer testified, thru Jess Smith, the friend of Attorney General Daugherty.

Trips to some sites in the east were described by the witness, and then the meeting in the Chicago hotel June 19, 1922, was related.

Rumanian Crude Oil Vainly Begg Market

BUCHAREST, Dec. 2. (AP)—The increasing keenness of competition in the Balkans from the United States and Russia is having a disastrous effect on the Rumanian petroleum industry. The price for crude oil has now declined from 1.35, a barrel of 10 metric tons, recorded in the spring of this year to 1.14,000. In other words, crude oil in Rumania today is worth less than $1.35 a barrel, which is below the cost of production.

Many of the purely Rumanian oil companies have been compelled to discontinue their field operations, and most of the foreign companies have considerably curtailed their drilling programs. Crude production has now reached the highest level in Rumania's history, averaging close to 1,250,000 barrels a month.

The export tax levied on a barrel of gasoline is about 50 cents.

Capt. Hartley reported that the passage was the worst in his experience as a navigator.

Federal Law Violates 1st. Amendment Constitution

Federal Judge Reeves Holds With Publishers' Demurrers.

Dickey, owner and editor of the Kansas City Journal and Post and Ralph Ellis, general managing editor of the two papers to indictments charging illegal publication of the Federal Income tax returns. PLAN ATHLETICS FOR U. S. ARMY

Three Year Program Is To Be Initiated By the War Department on January 1.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Development of extensive enlisted participation in army athletics is the objective of a three year program to be initiated by the War Department on January 1.

Under the program, as is being developed by Major T. J. Johnson, army athletic officer, only one officer will be allowed to play on a team although there are a few exceptions. Golf, tennis and polo are to be the particular arenas for officer sportsmen, while the rank and file will contend in baseball, football and basketball. All star officer teams are discouraged.

This regime was brought about by a tightening of army purse strings by Congressional hands, and a desire to remove dissatisfaction among enlisted personnel with the present trend of army athletics.

Corps areas will arrange inter-corps area games, and the commanding general of the ninth corps area, comprising the western section of the country, is to arrange schedules for Pacific games with marines and naval men stationed there. The commanding general at Fort Benning, Ga., is charged with details connected with the organization of army teams for Atlantic games.

Officer teams and teams composed partly of officers are considered permissible at the general and special service schools, but may not be used to play inter-service games with navy and marine corps players or against another army team. They are to be restricted to playing with college and civilian teams. Exclusively officer teams may be organized on particular occasions within the War Department's new policy, for competitions with other officer teams.

Community To Lift Its Voice In Song

Tonight at 8 o'clock, in the High School Auditorium, the city of Middlesboro will hold its first community sing. An elaborate program has been prepared for both group singing and special numbers.

Professor Surrmann, the High School quartette, and other musicians have prepared to assist in the program. This is a real treat for everyone, and it is seldom that such a splendid program of fine music is offered. The best part of it is that everyone will have a chance to test his vocal chords so it will not be necessary to stand about and watch the others enjoy all the music.

Resurrect your Pat's Pick and your Camp Davis song book and be on hand to make the welkin ring.

South Carolina Governor To Let King and Harrell Go to Chair.

ARE TO DIE FRIDAY

Defendants Are Under Sentence For the Murder of Army Officer Last Summer.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 2. —Governor McLeod, late yesterday issued a statement in which he refused the request of hundreds of citizens of Chesterfield county that he commute the death sentence of Mortimer N. King and Frank Harrell, who are under sentence to be executed here next Friday for the murder of Major Samuel H. McLeary. Both men originally sentenced to die November 21, were reprieved recently by the governor, in order to allow time for a thorough study of their case before announcing his final decision.

Meanwhile communications were received by the governor from citizens over the state, arguing pro and con, especially as to Harrell's complicity.

Recently a petition signed by 11 members of the trial jury and hundreds of citizens of Chesterfield county, where the crime was committed, was presented the governor by defense attorneys, asking commutation of both sentences.

King and Harrell were convicted of the murder of Major McLeary, as a result of King's confession to officers which implicated Harrell. Harrell at first denied, but later admitted that he planned with King to hold up and rob the officer after the latter had given them a ride in his car.

GETTING THE FISH UP THOUGH THE ICE

Once a fish is hooked the next thing is to pull up the line right. Of the great number of croppies and catfish hooked by ice-fishermen it is not exaggerating it to say that most are lost enroute up to the surface. This comes, first by giving the hook too violent a jerk when setting the hook. The pull up should be determined, but not violent; and in pulling up, the acolyte, hand over hand.

MAY LOCATE HERE

Company Has Capitalization to Amount of $150,000.

New Business Would Furnish Employment to More Than 250 People First Year It Begins Labors.

A new enterprise has been organized to be known as the Anderson Indian Remedies Company with a capitalization of $150,000. This company has been incorporated by the following gentlemen: Judge W. T. Davis, Judge E. J. Bethune, Senator J. F. Bosworth, Hon. E. S. Helburn and Judge E. N. Ingram.

This company is organized for the purpose of manufacturing Indian Herbal Remedies that were used by the late Dr. J. S. Anderson, who formerly maintained a sanitarium at Kingston, Tennessee, and later to Somerset, Kentucky, where he built a large sanitarium.

Dr. J. S. Anderson was known as the wonderful Indian doctor who administered marvelous cures with his herbal medicine to thousands of people throughout the United States. Ninety-five per cent of the sick and afflicted people who applied to him as a last resort to be restored to health, were restored to their normal health by his wonderful cures. This is the first time in the history of any patent medicine that has been presented to the public whereby it has been tested in the superior courts of two states as to its merits and won the victory in each case.

With the splendid and successful gentlemen who form the personnel of this Company, it is sure to make a wonderful success. Should Middlesboro be successful in obtaining this plant, it would be a great asset to our city. Conservative estimating, it would furnish employment to more than 250 people the first year. This opinion is based upon facts taken from Anderson's large clientele throughout the United States who are waiting now for this medicine to be placed on the market.

Some very prominent men of Somerset have recently communicated with members of the organization in view of getting this plant located at Somerset.

Citizens of Middlesboro should cooperate in every possible manner with the incorporators of this company in order to get them to locate their plant in Middlesboro.

The city of Middlesboro is well located on two railroads and has every natural resource that goes to make up a manufacturing center. A place that Eastern Kentucky is proud of; in fact, the garden spot of the mountains, and I know that the people of Middlesboro will never let an enterprise with the merits and personnel of this Company pass them by.

Reformers Besiege The Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Representatives of organizations interested in certain types of legislation are drawing an ever narrowing circle about the United States Capitol.

To the north of the historic structure the Anti-Saloon League headquarters is seen. To the right rises the recently completed headquarters of Labor. Eastward is the new home of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Temperance and here it is the headquarters of the National Woman's Party, with its equal rights amendment as its special objective.

Thus, "The Hill" as it is called by Washingtonians, is becoming thick with legislative battles, with the century old Congress at their focus point.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Francis E. Warren of Cheyenne, Wyo., "the greatest shepherd since Abraham," doesn't care for the job of shepherding the G. O. P. flock in the United States Senate during this short term of congress.

Whether Warren thinks there are too many "goats" in the flock, or that the more rambunctious ram in the herd are likely to run amuck and cause a lot of trouble, isn't disclosed.

As senior member of the Senate following the death of Henry Cabot Lodge, Warren was in line for the Senate leadership. It was a position of prestige to which his 30 full years of senate service entitled him.

But the prospect of having to ridge range over La Follette, Norris, Brookhart, Frazier, Ladd and other G. O. P. "black sheep" in the short session somehow didn't appeal to the old shepherd.

He isn't as young as he used to be, having turned 80 last June, and there were chances that it might be a rather rough roundup.

So he stepped aside, passing the honor and the responsibility on to the younger and more stalwart shoulders of Charles Curtis of Kansas, who during the last session wielded the G. O. P. whip under Lodge's leadership.

SENATORIAL dignity has suffered seriously as a result of the suggestion that the senate office building has been a rendezvous for midnight drinking and "petting" parties.

This situation, which has caused a careful watch of the senatorial chambers in years past, has now resulted in an order by Senator Curtis, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, that no one but senators and their secretaries—almost entirely masculine—be admitted to the building after 9:30 p. m.

Every senator has a sizable staff of clerks and assistants who normally are able to gain access to their quarters without question. Pass keys to senatorial offices as a result, are rather widely distributed.

Last week, when a watchman knocked at the door, a young woman jumped from a second-story window of Senator Leamont's suite, breaking one leg in her fall. Both Leamont and his secretary said the young man who was found in the office from which the girl had jumped had no right there.

The drastic order, putting the lid on visitors to senatorial suites after 9:30 p. m., followed.

RICE W. MEANS, elected to a short term senatorship from Colorado, has a mean nickname to live down.

During the campaign, his democratic adversary gave him the name of a patent breakfast food, dubbing him "Puffed Rice" Means.

Means' friends, however, insist that the nickname is entirely misleading—that there is nothing puffed or windy about him at all; that instead he is a very solid and substantial citizen, with a fine fighting record, both in the Spanish-American and World Wars, and a recommendation for a medal of honor for service in the Philippines to his credit.

EXPLORERS for the National Geographic Survey have just brought to Washington what are declared to be the finest specimens of prehistoric American art yet brought to light.

A turquoise necklace of 2500 pieces, with four remarkable large and lustrous turquoise pendants, is the particular prize of the lot.

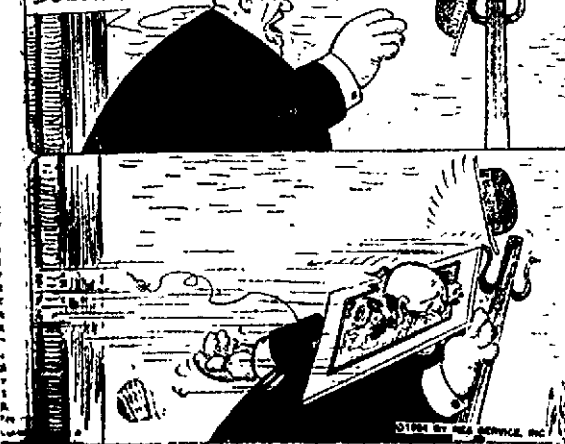

These newest finds were uncovered in the pre-Columbian "apartment house" of Chaco Canyon, New Mexico, where the searchers have shifted tons of debris removed from the ancient ruins.

When Co-operation Ceases To Be Of Any Benefit

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT some cities long known as "beautiful cities of the near-dead" are coming back and coming strong.

THAT it is a re-birth of these cities and on all sides you can see evidence of the new life.

THAT a new spirit of enlightened understanding has made its appearance, an era of prosperity and great development is dawning.

THAT you can see forces for development and for business pepping up; they are filled with a spirit of co-operation.

THAT their civic leaders are on the job and they are putting in their time unselfishly for the good of the whole.

THAT there is an awakened interest on the part of all citizens in the home city for its betterment.

THAT the citizens have at last realized that through the success of the city is found the realization of their individual desires.

THAT a city that is good enough to make a living in is good enough to spend money in.

THAT citizens promote their own interests when they spend their money in the home city.

THAT some people have little regard for the city in which they live. Anyone would think that this thoughtless class would want to make the business of the home city better so they could live better themselves.

THAT many cities have many men who always say, "It can't be done."

THAT in worthwhile cities their leaders say, "It can be done," and they go and do it.

THAT when business men get the habit of talking poor business, it generally helps to bring about just what they are talking about.

A BUSINESS or a city must believe thoroughly in their own business or city before they can make others believe in it.

Radio Writing Is Lucrative Trade

In the good old days when Lilly McGuigan of Pux-atway joined out with the Emma Abbott Grand Opera company, she immediately changed her name to Vera de Vere. Folks back home called it Lilly's stage name. Lilly claimed she changed her name to keep her parents from being humiliated. Nowadays when Isadore Einstein leaves Cincinnati to pursue a literary career in the Greenwich Village, he adopts a poetical name like Milton Cowper or some such handle. But the busy bee of the radio industry is the young man who writes under ten different names and sells all the stuff to one paper. What's in a name? Plenty of Jack if you can write on radio and can think up enough good nom de plumes.

OPEN FORUM

A Bigger and Better Middlesboro

If there were no real incentives in a child, he would when grown still have the spirit of play and idleness and not promote very much mental and physical activity. If we had not had the promoters of the Declaration of Independence, possibly we would have not had Freedom in America and be enjoying the liberty we now enjoy.

Shine Middlesboro is so beautiful, located in this broad valley of the Cumberland and surrounded by the beautiful mountains filled with wealth, it could become a leading city of our grand Commonwealth, if industry was promoted and fostered. Having its net work of railroads connecting it with all eastern markets and the great cotton fields of the South it is a beautiful location for industry if the business interests would give capital a chance. If they would permit industry to be built free of taxation for a number of years, until plants and factories could be installed and paid for and then make taxes very light, capital would take hold and its feature of idleness and unrest would stop.

If the business men of Middlesboro would promote industry by good liberal donations and invite capital to help increase their incomes enormously in the way of trade.

If a man is employed and making money he does not care to trade heavy and provide well for his household which then commanded him to do and it would only be a question of a very short time until the promotions of industry were repaid four fold. Now let's everybody pull together with a common purpose and aim in view to make Middlesboro one of the best mountain cities in all the world and as we go in and out we can pride ourselves of having that progressive spirit that make cities great and people better in the sight of humanity and God.

Respectfully submitted as food for thought.

"BLUE GOOSE" CARRIES SCHOOL CHILDREN

CUMBERLAND GAP, Dec. 2.—An interesting feature of the Blue Goose Bus lines, operated by Arthur Kinser and others is the facilities thus afforded to many hundreds of school children to attend school who otherwise might have to walk long distances or not be able to attend. For these children a very low commuted price is charged, so low in fact that no hardship is worked upon the parents of the children. Mr. Kinser stated to a representative of the Cumberland Courier this week that should any child along the routes covered by these busses be found who is unable to pay the small charge, he will see that they have transportation to and from school absolutely free of charge.—Cumberland Courier.

A Good Thing—DON'T MISS IT.

Send your name and address plainly written together with 5 cents (and this slip) to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial package containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and tickling throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gas, pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it.

Cough Remedy Mother Gave Us Still Best

Fine Tar and Honey Best All Modern Drugs

In thousands of families it has been the custom for many years to keep pine tar and honey always on hand for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, croup and tickling throat; Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gas, pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it.

And now we are told that in spite of modern medical discoveries there is still no better or quicker cough remedy. Doctors say the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion that cause the coughing, also healing soreness, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe irritation.

The original compound, made up many years ago and used by millions of people, was Dr. J. C. Plummer's Pine Tar and Honey. This is a combination of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to be the best for coughs. If you want the original and the best, be sure you get Dr. J. C. Plummer's Pine Tar and Honey. Only 5c. at any good drug store.

CONSTRUE LAW IN DIFFERENT LIGHT

Appellate Court Places Fifty New Constructions On Criminal Laws of Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Dec. 1.—(AP).—More than fifty new constructions of the criminal law of Kentucky has been made by the court of appeals since convening in full term. A good part of the heavy criminal docket of more than 100 cases had been cleared by the court when it sat today to hand down opinions.

Whisky cases, with their usual $300 fine and 60 day's confinement in county jail as punishment, are included in criminal cases.

The upholding of the 1922 general assembly act, providing a penalty for burglary of life imprisonment or death in discretion of the jury, with no minimum penalty, was the most important action of the court. Commissioner of Prisons wrote the opinion. The old law set the penalty at from two to ten years.

Happenings on a previous occasion are only competent as illustrating motives of parties, on issue of self-defense, or showing what they would reasonably do under the circumstances. Commissioner of Prisons declared when the court affirmed the 21 year's penitentiary imprisonment given Frank Davidson and his son, Carl Davidson, indicted and found guilty in the Perry circuit court for the murder of Rufus Herd.

Other points made in the appellate opinion were: Assumption by the lower court, in instructions that a certain defendant shot deceased, could not have misled the jury prejudicially, where there was no question that such defendant did shoot the deceased; all instructions are to be read together.

Under the Criminal Code of Practice, the court of appeals has no jurisdiction of appeal in misdemeanor cases, unless transcript of the record is filed in the clerk's office within sixty days after judgment, was another point made recently by Commissioner of Prisons in an opinion.

Decisions of the lower court upon challenges to panel cannot be considered on appeal, in view of the Criminal Code of Practice. Judge McManless declared in an opinion affirming the Caldwell Circuit court.

The appellant, Smith, was convicted of malicious shooting without warning and his punishment fixed at confinement for one year in the penitentiary. On the day before his trial, his brother was tried in the same court for a different offense. The prosecuting witness in Smith's case testified before the regular jurors in his brother's case, and this fact was basis for motion to discharge the entire panel of jurors. The lower court overruled the motion.

MAY ESTABLISH JEWISH REPUBLIC

Subject Has Been Discussed For Some Time By Prominent Hebrews.

MOSCOW, Dec. 2. (AP).—Stimulus is growing in Russia for the establishment of a Jewish republic. The subject has been under discussion among prominent Hebrews and members of the government for some time past. It is known that the Soviet, which is anxious to solve the problem of all nationalities within its borders, is prepared to give complete autonomy to the Jews provided some means can be found of unifying their interests and of locating them in a homogeneous colony within the Soviet Union. At present there are upward of 6,000,000 Jews in Russia, scattered over a wide area.

Bolshevik officials take much pride in saying they have solved the minorities question in Armenia, Georgia, Azerbaijan and the Central Asian States, where efforts centuries old efforts of Czarist Russia in the same direction failed.

Although the Hebrews' aspirations for self government have never been as pronounced as those of other minorities it is certain a great majority of them would welcome the creation of a republic of their own, provided they are given guarantees of security and independence from the central government at Moscow. The Bolshevik revolution released the Jews from the bondage of the czars, and under the present Soviet regime they are allowed all the privileges accorded Russian citizens. But Jewish leaders here seek an autonomous republic of their own similar to that under which the Tartars, Ukrainians, Kirghisians, Georgians and other alien nationalities within Soviet Russia are living.

There is no thought on the part of the Soviet government officials to usurp the place now held by Palestine as a National Home for the Jews, for they recognize that religious motives largely govern those who have sought domicile in the Holy land. The authorities here envisage a much broader scheme of settlement for the Jews, one where they would have not only complete religious liberty but full scope for the development of their political, economic and cultural aspirations.

HONEST ABE WAS TIRELESS WORKER

Gettysburg Address Was Not Impromptu Effort As Many Have Assumed.

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 1. (AP).—Contrary to an general belief that Lincoln's Gettysburg address was either unprepared or a hastily prepared effort, it was a result of careful thought and much work, according to Prof. Daniel Kilham Dodge of the University of Illinois. He is convinced, after years of research work, that Lincoln's success in writing and speaking was the result of constant effort and that standard English to the Civil War President was an acquired dialect.

It has often been assumed that Lincoln, like Goldsmith, was a master of English style by the grace of God and without special effort on his part," Prof. Dodge declared. "Nothing could be farther from the truth, for we have abundant evidence, both internal and external, that Lincoln's success in writing and speaking, as in the practice of the law, was the result of constant effort."

"Just as he made thorough preparation of his law cases, studying his opponent's side as carefully as his own, never depending upon the inspiration of the moment, so he bestowed infinite pains upon the preparation of his speeches, generally writing them out in full and committing them to memory. He summed up his practice as a lawyer in these words of advice to a law student: 'Work, work, work, that is the main thing.'"

ASK FEDERAL AID FOR ROAD WORK

State Highway Commission Has Turned Toward Federal Aid To Satisfy Requests.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 1. (AP).—The state highway commission is announcing suspension of construction contract letting until June, 1926, due to a depleted road fund, has turned toward federal aid to satisfy requests for road building, its latest orders show.

The commission suspended all letting until the end of the present biennial working period, 18 months from now, set by the Court of Appeals and Attorney General Frank E. Dugger.

The suspension, abeyance, and rejection of projects was accompanied by announcement by Chairman

W. C. Montgomery that "a financial embarrassment of the highway department" exists.

W. H. Shanks, state auditor, has been called upon to submit the correct status of the depleted road fund. Louisville accountants are auditing the department's books. The attorney general's department is studying the situation.

Kentucky's allotments of federal aid funds for the year ending in July this year was $1,228,125.23.

Under the amended federal aid road act, approved by the president November 9, 1921, expenditures of federal aid funds were limited to a seven per centum system. Each state, through its state highway department, is required to select or designate a system of highways, not to exceed seven per centum of the total highway mileage of such state as shown by the records of the state highway department at the time of the passage of the act.

The state road law, enacted by the legislature of 1920, made provision for the co-operation of Kentucky with the federal government in the construction of a federal aid scheme of highways. Under the seven per cent provision of the amended federal aid act, a proposed scheme of federal aid roads was outlined by the state highway department and submitted to the Bureau of Roads at Washington.

A Lawrence county project, the Louisa-Sandy Hook-Morehead road was contracted for before announcement of suspension of contract letting. Commissioner Heblum made the motion, seconded by Commissioner Owen. The county is to pay all estimates after they have been certified by the highway department and the engineering payrolls are to be paid by the county after they have been approved by the department. Provision is to be inserted into the contract that the contractor is to look to Lawrence county for his payment after proper certification of estimates.

Airplanes Are Used To Carry Freight

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 1. (AP).—A regular commercial express and freight service by air to neighboring countries is the latest development in the use of airplanes here. The freight service has actually started over the line between Stockholm and Helsinki, Finland, and thus augments the air traffic between those two countries, which has hitherto been limited to passengers and mails. The distance to Helsinki is about 240 miles across the Baltic Sea, a good day's run for a small steamer.
